The correspondent of the London ews says: "The wemen to-day News savs: wore on their heads red kerchiefs with the ends hanging down their backs, and bound on their heads by a yelvet fillet, embroidered with coins in which were often stuck flowers, chiefly of red and white. They were generally dressed in white, but invariably with the brilliant apron osom, a petticoat striped mostly in the parallel stripes of Moorish pattern, but occasionally in checkers, which make the pattern a tartan, a tapestry like apron of brighter colors than the petticoat, and bare legs and feet The men are a fine race, tall, with a certain stateliness and self-respect in every gesture; their faces are almost always good, and often quite intellec tual and chivalric, but in muscular development the peasant women of Servia can give their husbands a stone and a beating. I took the trouble today to measure the waist of a lass who was lounging against the pillar of a tayern where we were having some refreshment. Her waist was a good inch more in circumference than mine, and I am by no means a smallboued man. I noticed as we came further south how the ruddy complexion and fair hair, bleached almost being left behind, and giving place to faces of an Oriental type—a blending of the Greek and Arab with store of the Greek and Arab, with cleancut profile, straight nose, and black hair and eyes, and a noble carriage Occasionally among the women a face of pure Egyptian type was to be noticed-a trace probably of the infusion of gypsy blood which is far mon in Eastern Europe from uncommon in Eastern Europe One woman, I noticed leaning drea ily over a garden fence with a faccast in the very mold of the Sphiux.

The steamship Amerique, of the General Transatlantic Steamship Company, has been provided with new electric light for the purpose of illumination at sea. The apparatus used is one of Mr. Gramme's electromagnetic machines designed for illuminating purposes. The propelling power is a small but powerful engine. The lamp consists of two pointed coke pencils, four or five inches in length and one-half inch square, ken at the proper distance from eac other by a clock-work arrangement and which will last some four hours The light, it is affirmed, is visible at sea at a distance of fifteen mile and lights the ship so perfectly that all the details of her equipment and rigging can be plainly seen at design of the lamp is to afford light for working the ship. The Amerique is the first vessel that has been equip ped with the light, and the system is said to work with the greatest satisfaction.—[Editor's Scientific Record, in Harper's Magazine for September NARROW GAUGE RAILROADS.

ELECTRIC LIGHT FOR ILLUMINATION AT SEA.

The eloquence of figures could scarcely be more fully illustrated Boston Journal of Commerce when speaking of the difference in first cost and subsequent expense of management of broad, as compared with narrow, gauge railroads. The superior advantages resultant from the construction of the latter are evidence

"The difference in weight and cost of the rolling stock of the broad and narrow gauge railroads has been calculated by a Herald correspondent as follows: A locomotive, baggage car, Pullman car and four passenger cars on the Eastern road give capacity for 230 passengers, weigh 138 tons, and cost $63,000; one locomotive and six passenger cars on the Revere Beach cost of the roads is still more marked." 20

THE CRIME AGAINST WOMAN.

[From the Keokuk Gate City.] This crime could be easily stopped by law. Let the law provide that every man guilty of rape, or attempted rape, shall, in addition to impriso ment, be unsexed. A penalty of this kind upon the statute books of the state, enforced in every instance where the crime is committed or attempted will soon make women secure again in their homes, on the street, on the highway, everywhere. The law in its present treatment of crime is foolishly and unphilosophically indifferent to all the disclosures of modern science as to the propagation of crime. We hold it to be the duty of the state to apply the law of natural selection and inheritance to the treatment of social evils. Let the state by its penalties adjust its policy to prevent the propagation as well as the perpe-

The fear of a re-euslavement of the negroes seems greatly to disturb the more radical of the Hayes-Grant organs. Let the whites of the country be emancipated from the slavery of tax-ation and debt which the profligacy and corruption of radicalism has imposed upon them, and then they may think about the condition of the negro, but the negro will in all probability have to lock out for himself until this is done, for charity begins at home. White slavery is a question just now, of much more concern to the North than black boudage, and all this talk about the negro is not going to pursuade the country that four years more of Grantism is going to better the condition of either white or black .- [Chicago Courier.

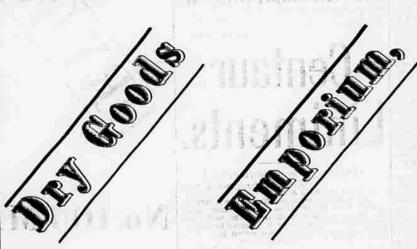

What will the people of the east think when they read that in California a single machine turns out an aver age of 800 sacks, or 1,600 bushels of wheat in a day, while instances are by no means rare of 2,000 bushels being threshed in one day? The Russian river Flag cites several in. Russian river Flag cites several instances of this kind, and further says that the tract—25,000 acres—on which the machine is at work will average fifty bushels to the acre. Statistics show that ONE PERSON IN EVERY TEN meets with an accident every year. It is a common error with the public to suppose that the Accident Policies of this Company are chiefly for TRAVELERS, or to cover the accidents of travel. In fact but a small portion of the losses paid were caused by "accident of travel." This misconception arises from the Company's name. It should be generally understood that Insurance is made against GENERAL ACCIDENTS to men of all professions, traites, or occupations; its policies cover "bodily injuries, effected through EXTERNAL, VIOLENT AND ACCIDENTAL MEANS," causing death within three months from the date of injury, or immediately and wholly disabling the policy-holder from
